the agent at the screening area told me that the items could be held as lost luggage and picked up later the patient's description of symptoms and their impact on quality of life followed by a complete physical examination are the first steps in diagnosing voiding dysfunction