the two most common and simple exercises to try are the stop-start technique and the distraction technique